A LETTER FROM PASTOR MARK WILLIAMS

Dear Messiah Family,

It is with great enthusiasm and excitement that I have accepted the call to come and be the senior pastor at Messiah Church of York!

I passionately believe that God created the local church to be the hope of the world. The local church is God's plan to spread the Gospel throughout the world. Messiah Church, strategically placed on a hill in North York, has a unique opportunity to impact the community in powerful and transformational ways through the Gospel message.

Jesus said in John 12:32...

"And I, when I am lifted up from the earth, will draw all people to Myself."

Believing this promise to be true, let's lift Jesus up in intentional and relevant ways so we can see our community drawn to Him.

Here are three things I would like you to consider as we begin serving together.

First, let's be praying for God to come work among us in ways that we could never take credit for!! Let's ask God to come and work in ways that we could never imagine or dream, ways that cause us all to agree "that could only be God!!"

Second, let's agree together from the start that we are going to expect God to work in powerful and miraculous ways among us rather than simply hoping something might happen. The Bible clearly tells us who God is, and that we can hold onto God's promises. I hope as time progresses, we can get into the habit of just saying "not surprised" when people surrender to Christ, when marriages are restored, hearts are revived, and people get excited because God is working exactly as the Bible tells us He will!!

Third, during this time of prayer and searching after God's will for our lives in this process, God gave my wife and I two words: NO LIMITS. I think these words perfectly apply to the potential of what God wants to do among us. If we are willing to be an open-minded, forward-thinking, Biblically-grounded church, I imagine there are no limits to what God can do at Messiah. I can't wait to find out!

Let's go!! Let's shine the hope of Jesus from this hill!!

Pastor Mark Williams

A LETTER FROM PASTOR LES TOWSEY

Dear Messiah Church,

I thank my God every time I remember you, constantly praying with joy in every one of my prayers for all of you, because of your sharing in the gospel from the first day until now.
-Philippians 1:3-5

Over the last 24 years I have said "Goodbye" to five different churches. Each time it seems to get more difficult. The time has come for me to say "Goodbye" to Messiah York. I hope and pray that when this article is published a new pastor is already serving Messiah York, or soon will be.

It was in the summer of 2023, Ben called me and asked if I would fill in preaching till a new pastor was found. I enjoyed being with you for those eight weeks. I was saddened and surprised when Ben called in December asking me to provide some pastoral support for Messiah York. It was a blessing to get to know Christian and Aria and work with them and Messiah York through a challenging time.

Now, as the pastoral search concludes, it is time for me to focus fully on my church planning endeavor on the West Shore of Harrisburg. This sounds bad, but I hope Ben never needs to call me again! I will be available to you as a resource and help if called upon, but I am trusting my time at Messiah York will serve as a footnote in your history. I know God has great things in store for you, and I am glad to have been at least a little part of your journey.

May God richly bless you, may the love of Jesus surround you, and may the power of the Holy Spirit fill you. Now and forevermore. Amen.

Rev. Dr. Leslie P. Towsey

Thank You, Pastor Les!

We would like to express our sincere gratitude to Pastor Les Towsey for stepping in during our time of need. His unwavering spiritual guidance, support, and leadership have been a beacon of hope for us all. Pastor Les has truly kept us moving forward and we are deeply thankful for his presence and commitment to our Messiah community. We wish him many blessings in his future endeavors.

With appreciation, your friends from Messiah Church

FOUR THINGS THE GARDEN IS TEACHING ME NOW

BY JAMIE NATO

It's gardening season, and the thing about having ADHD is that we go really hard into hobbies. We may spend an inordinate amount of time and money on something we might not be able to maintain for too long, but by golly, it keeps us busy and entertained for a bit. My hobby this year was gardening. "At least it's useful!" I say to my husband as he sees another trip to the local nursery pop up on the bank statement.

More than what it's providing for us physically, I am finding so much spirituality there too. Here are a few things God is teaching so far:

1. Remember when I moved the peonies?

They did bloom wonderfully last summer, to my relief. But oddly, this summer they only gave me one round of blooms as opposed to three or four in years past. I stood over them wondering how I could have helped them grow better or what was going on. The thought occurred to me that sometimes grief shows up belated. They were traumatized from the move, they were doing their best, and this year just wasn't their year to produce like crazy. I found myself having compassion for the peonies and their big move, not bitterness that they didn't make enough flowers for me. I pruned and fed them, and let them just be. It made me wonder how attentive God is to us, how He isn't interested in our productivity, but in our well-being. How He stands in the hot sun, with the shears and the nutrients, and compassionately understands why we just can't be so useful and bloomy all the time. If I am like this over flowers, what is God like over me.

2. I started my cucumbers from seed this year.

This is something I said I would never do because I wasn't "good at plants." The funny thing about listening to yourself is that you start to believe those words eventually. As it turns out, I am not bad at plants at all, I was just afraid of failure and afraid to try something new. Once I gave myself permission to give it a try, I actually loved it! My cucumbers are producing like crazy. Yesterday I pulled five off the vine and squealed with delight at how one little seed could make such a bounty. I was slicing them to make pickles and saw there were thousands of seeds in one cucumber. God in His very nature, down to our own vegetables, tells a story of His abundance. He doesn't run out of seeds or goodness towards you. He is a God of abundance. It reminds me of the fishes and loaves story in the Bible: You bring Him a small thing, and He multiplies it a thousand times.

3. In past years, I never pruned my basil.

I would only take leaves from the stem when I was cooking but that's about it. In the summer heat, they would bolt up tall and flower and lose their steam. This year, I learned the proper way to prune and I was really nervous it might not work. But I did it anyway, scared. Now, I have a basil forest! I can't make enough pesto and am begging my neighbors to come grab some. It reminds me of God pruning us; it doesn't feel like it's doing anything but feeling bad. It feels like He's taking something away from us. But remember, we don't love an angry, spiteful God. We love a generous and abundant God. And what I love about pruning my basil is that even the stems I cut off, when put in water, create roots and are used to make even more basil plants. Everything pruned is used for good somehow. For us and for others.

4. The other day, the tops of my carrots were huge and showy and magnificent.

I decided they were ready to be pulled. I was so excited as I lifted them out... until I looked at the carrots. Short and stubby, and not even enough to make much of anything with them. I laughed and googled what went wrong. "Clay soil doesn't give carrots enough room to grow. You must add sand." Sure enough, my soil was really thick. I planted the right seed – but in the wrong kind of soil. Next year, I'll know better and improve. I think about that with the dreams God has entrusted me with. Sometimes I plant them in the wrong kind of soil and when it doesn't work, I quit. What those dreams needed wasn't inattentiveness, or quitting, they needed more space, not less! Ask God if there's a dream that needs more space in your life and see what He shows you.

Let's bore you with more lessons (trust me, I have endless ones!), I mostly want to tell you:

"The kingdom of heaven is like a mustard seed, which a man took and planted in his field. Though it is the smallest of all seeds, yet when it grows, it is the largest of garden plants and becomes a tree, so that the birds come and perch in its branches."
-Matthew 13:31-32

Maybe you're not a gardener, but the Bible is full of seed and garden language because it is something physical and tangible we can look at and say,

"What is God doing with the small things? What is He doing with my tiny seeds planted in hope?"

I tell you, nature is proclaiming that He is doing much with them!

SPECIAL MUSIC IN JULY

Job Receives Blessings

Then, after Job had prayed for his three friends, the Lord made him prosperous again and gave him twice as much as he had had before. All Job's brothers and sisters and former friends came to visit him and feasted with him in his house. They expressed their sympathy and comforted him for all the troubles the Lord had brought on him. Each of them gave him some money and a gold ring.

The Lord blessed the last part of Job's life even more than he had blessed the first.

Double Blessing

DON'T SETTLE FOR LESS THAN YOU'RE CALLED TO BLESS

BY MARK BATTERSON

God doesn't bless us to raise our standard of living. God blesses us to raise our standard of giving, and that's where true joy is found.

His discovery started with a simple experiment. Whenever Batterson received a blessing, he would give a similar blessing away. If someone paid him a compliment or gave him a gift or went out of their way to help him, he would return the favor by doing something similar for someone else.

We flip the blessing by blessing others in the way God has blessed us. That's how the blessing becomes a double blessing. It turns giving into a game—one we can't win because God will always out give us! It's an ancient truth found within the Abrahamic covenant: "I will bless you . . . and you will be a blessing."

In other words, we are blessed to bless. The first blessing is receiving, but it doesn't end there. The second blessing is giving it away! That's the double blessing. And that's where double joy is found.

In a day and age where the idea of blessing has been reduced to a hashtag (#blessed), Batterson challenges readers to pursue true, God-glorifying blessing and experience an exponential impact by participating in the double blessing.

There are several copies available in the Narthex for you to borrow, read, and return to the table when finished for others to enjoy.

New Sermon Series

"Hope Unleashed"

Please join us at 9 am & 10:30 am.

Strategically placed on a hill in North York, Messiah Church rises above the community like a lighthouse or a beacon for all to see, even from the interstate. Immersed in a world of darkness, confusion, and despair, Messiah Church is called to be light, truth, and hope.

In this series, we will explore the ideas that Messiah Church is called to be the hope of the world, is called to be a place of grace while standing on the truth, and is called to unleash this hope into the community and beyond.

Starting August 4, don't miss a Sunday!

BIBLE IN A YEAR - ABOUT THE BOOKS

James is carried over from July's scripture readings.

James, a half-brother of Jesus, was not a follower during the Savior's time on earth. In fact, Mark 3:21 has him thinking Jesus was "out of his mind" during his early ministry. James finally became a believer upon seeing Jesus alive and well after the crucifixion. He became one of the leaders of the church at Jerusalem. This book is overflowing with wisdom, and is often thought to be among the first books that Christians read after the Gospel of John.

Half Brother of Jesus

First Corinthians - Apostle Paul heard there was quarrelling in the church. He was disappointed. He had spent 18 months with the Corinthian Christians and they had been doing well. He wanted to help them solve their quarreling. In Chapters 1-4 Paul talks about the quarrels he's heard about and offers advice. In Chapters 5-11 Paul exposes sins he's heard are already infesting the church. They had to do with sexual immorality, filing lawsuits against each other, and other things. In Chapters 12-15, he helps them understand difficult doctrines such as what speaking in tongues means. In Chapters 15-16, he preaches the pure gospel again and encourages these believers to hold fast to what is good.

Second Corinthians is actually the fourth letter Paul had written to this feisty group of believers. Two of the letters were lost in history. After three bad reports of their behavior, Paul finally got a good one. He wrote this letter to encourage them on their journey toward the kingdom of God. Paul speaks about his own apostleship at great length in this book. It helps you get to know him as a person. Apparently, some people in Corinth had said he wasn't really an apostle because he didn't know Jesus until after Jesus' death and resurrection. He corrects that. He then uses a description of his own ministry as an exhortation for the Corinthians to live godly and open-hearted lives. He describes how he's been honest, hopeful, and devoted while suffering, and how these things have blessed his ministry.
